Cofounder (1 of 3 partners) · alongside the CEO and CTO

- Validated the problem on both sides of the market (fraud, manipulation and rising costs) with more than 30 user interviews and 15 with companies.
- Designed the full product flows, integrating voice-based identity verification and automated AI summaries.
- Defined the MVP with the product designer, with a UI focused on the chosen sector and built for a visual format.
- Supported the CEO on strategy and in the meetings with pre-seed funds.

INDYA

Product Lead · B2C SaaS · Health tech — Jan 2022 - Dec 2023

Reported to the CPO and the CTO · leadership through influence

- Co-defined the growth strategy on the lifecycle rather than features: activation, engagement and retention as the roadmap's levers.
- Introduced systematic user research where there was none: interviews, surveys and continuous post-churn analysis.
- Cut monthly churn from 16% to 10%, tackling both voluntary and involuntary churn with product and customer success.
- Improved first-month activation (+28%) by optimising onboarding, personalisation and value comprehension.
- Redesigned pricing with A/B testing, unifying plans and removing entry barriers: +13% conversion and +5% ARPU, without affecting retention.
- Led delivery improvements: from Trello to Jira, real ceremonies, delivery criteria and sprints with a single focus.

- Cofounder responsible for the vision, MVP design, validation and the launch of the paid version; TheTool was born bootstrapped, funded by the agency that incubated it.
- Designed and evolved the features that set us apart: installs/ASO correlation, tracking dashboards, ASO score, international analysis, timeline and bulk monitoring.
- In 3 days we turned a hidden Google Play beta into an open feature: 7 months before the market and +30% MRR in 2 months.
- Led roadmap, discovery, functional definition and coordination with development, marketing and CS.
- Brought on the first Product Designer, and with them the full redesign of the brand and the platform.
- TheTool established itself among the reference ASO tools (nominated Best ASO Software in Europe) and was acquired by AppRadar in 2021.
